Program Strategy

Our strategy is to offer professional and leadership development at all levels to directly support the University's Mission, Vision, and Values, while aligning with strategic priorities that enhance and promote development programs across all career stages.

Program Introduction

Leading others requires individuals to acquire and grow a new set of skills and abilities. The courses in this program have been chosen to provide leads, supervisors, managers, and individuals looking to move into one of these roles with foundational tools to help them be successful. Developing as a leader goes beyond attending formal courses. Research shows that leadership potential is developed three distinct ways: 1) on-the-job (OJT) work experience, 2) coaching/mentoring from the person's supervisor and/or other key individuals, and 3) formal classroom/virtual training.

A good manager must be able to handle a variety of situations. The courses in this program range in competencies and topics that will help a manager navigate these situations. Participants in the cohort program will complete the curriculum together by meeting once a month in-person for 8-months

Competency Based Learning

In our continuous commitment to advancing high-quality professional development, each course in this program also includes a framework of competencies. These competencies have been thoughtfully categorized into the following areas: Managing the Organization, Leading Self, Leading Others, and Leading Programs and Projects. Competency-based learning is an educational theory that prioritizes mastering skills, emphasizing dynamic and personalized learning experiences.

The competencies within the program span a spectrum of important skills. This strategic alignment ensures that the courses not only deliver knowledge but also provide a practical and applicable skill set that is transferable to a variety of roles on the CU Anschutz Medical Campus. Through the incorporation of competencies, the courses in the program are poised to serve as catalysts for individual growth and organizational success, epitomizing our dedication to delivering a learning experience that is both impactful and tailored to the unique needs of each participant.

Resources

Manager Certification Teams Site (Cohort-Specific)

Individuals in the cohort-based program will be added to a private Teams site to share insights, resources, and receive updates on pre-work/upcoming sessions.

Manager Certification Team Channel (Post-Graduation)

Upon graduation from the cohort-program, participants gain access to a Teams site that includes all past cohort participants and those individuals in the self-paced Manager Certification program to share insights, articles, learning, and much more.

Credly Badge

Upon completing the program, you will earn a Credly digital badge. Credly empowers organizations to officially recognize individuals for demonstrated competencies and skills, connecting people to opportunities based on their talent and capabilities. This verifiable credential highlights your leadership skills and expertise, making meaningful achievements visible while unlocking access to a more diverse and qualified professional network. You can showcase your accomplishment on your LinkedIn profile, email signature, and other platforms, contributing to the global marketplace of knowledge and skills.

Badges will be awarded within a month of date of completion of the program.

FAQ's

Q: Is supervisor approval required for the program?

A: Yes. All individuals in the cohort must be pre-approved and nominated by a supervisor.

Q: After completing the program, will I be eligible for a raise or promotion to manager?

A: This certification program does not guarantee raises or promotion to a supervisor/manager position. It is intended to help individuals gain/enhance skills and competencies to be successful in their current role and future roles that may become available. Please talk with your supervisor/manager concerning raise and promotion opportunities.

Q: If I have already taken any of the courses listed prior to registering for the program, do I need to re-take them with the cohort?

A: Yes. Since this is a cohort-based program, all individuals in the program are expected to complete the curriculum together.

Q: How long is the cohort Program?

A: This is an 8-month long program.

Q: Is additional work required before and/or in between sessions?

A: Yes, there is usually pre-work required for every session. Pre-work time could vary depending on the curriculum but is usually less than 45 minutes. Participants will have approximately 3 weeks' advanced notice of any pre-work required before each session.

Q: How much of a monthly time commitment is the program?

A: Each month will involve an entire day of curriculum (days usually start at 8:30am and finish at or before 5 pm). Frequent breaks and a lunch break are pre-scheduled for each session date. Pre-work time and optional post-work time could vary from session to session. Please note all sessions are held in-person at the CU Anschutz Medical Campus.

Q: What are the attendance requirements?

A: We understand that schedule conflicts may arise; however, if program participants miss more than 2 sessions, they may not receive credit for the program. Our team will work with participants to determine possible options for making-up missed materials.
