ACADEMIC POSITIONS

University of Colorado, Anschutz Medical Campus

- 2015-present Professor (with tenure) and Paul A. Bunn, Jr. Endowed Chair in Cancer Research, University of Colorado. Colorado School of Public Health, Department of Health Systems, Management, and Policy.
- 2018-present Associate Dean for Research, Colorado School of Public Health. •During my leadership, Blue Ridge rankings rose from #23 to #18, nearly doubling NIH dollars from $10.7 million to $19.7 million •Developed research opportunities for under-represented undergraduate students •Created a research portfolio visualization tool to communicate research portfolio and areas for growth •Administered pilot funds to stimulate cross-campus collaborations •Led 5-year strategic planning for research •Led cross-campus planning committee for collaborations between University of Boulder and Anschutz faculty • Convened and led faculty committee for community-based research protocol development during the COVID-19 pandemic • Participated on campus-wide basic and clinical research resumption committee • Led planning and launching of the first annual school-wide research day attended by ~200 faculty, students, and guests including undergraduates from other universities

2018-present Deputy Director, University of Colorado Comprehensive Cancer Center. • Part of the leadership team that led the Cancer Center to its best Cancer Center Support Grant score since inception • Established a “Rising Stars” endowment to attract and support under-represented, early career stage faculty and recruited the first African American woman as a Rising Star • Established the Office of Community Outreach and Engagement and recruited its inaugural Associate Director • Led strategic planning, resource allocation, administration, recruitment, and advancement • Developed multidisciplinary research initiatives across basic, translational, and population research programs • Aligned missions critical for research and care delivery at campus and health system leadership • Recruit new scientists to the institution • Champion strategic initiatives that align consortium partners at the University of Colorado Boulder, Colorado State University, Veteran’s Administration, and Children’s Hospital • Build successful, collaborative teams across disciplines and campuses • Participate in philanthropic initiatives

2015-2020 Associate Director, University of Colorado Comprehensive Cancer Center, Population Sciences • Reshaped a failing program into a nationally recognized program of excellence • Increased cancer-focused funding by 28% and peer-reviewed publications by 30% • Under my leadership, the program received its best score since inception and is on a trajectory for continued success • Recruited a new programmatic leadership team and my successor • Created the Population Health Shared Resource to stimulate inter-programmatic research and within the first 3 years, provided support to ~$10 million successful NIH grant proposals • Established the Four Corners Collaboration (4C2) to jointly address research and catchment concerns through collaboration between the University of Colorado, University of Utah, University of New Mexico, and University of Arizona NCI-designated comprehensive cancer centers; 4C2 leaders meet biannually

Virginia Commonwealth University

2005-2015 Professor (with tenure) and Theresa A. Thomas Endowed Chair in Cancer Prevention and Control, Virginia Commonwealth University, School of Medicine, Department of Healthcare Policy and Research. Visiting Professor, Kazak National Medical University, Almaty, Kazakhstan (Summer, 2014).

2014-15 Chair, Department of Health Behavior and Policy, School of Medicine. • Merged the Department of Healthcare Policy and Research and Department of Social and

Behavioral Health into a single multidisciplinary department of Health Behavior and Policy supporting 2 doctoral programs, a global health scholars' program, and multiple training grants. Annual operating budget of $7.8 million, $5.2 million sponsored research, 18 full-time faculty, >30 doctoral students, 26 full-time administrative and research staff; total department personnel >100

- Developed a strategic plan aligning the missions of the two departments

2009-15 Chair (inaugural), Department of Healthcare Policy and Research, School of Medicine. •Established the department through a successful business plan, recruitment strategy, and extensive negotiation for space, financial reserves, and investment •Recruited a cohesive team of diverse faculty members, post-doctoral fellows, and administrative staff •Established a new doctoral program in Healthcare Policy and Research and led its approval through the university and state governing bodies •Partnered with the Ministry of Health in Kazakhstan to train Bolashak Scholars •Mentored all inaugural faculty towards promotion and tenure prior to my departure as Chair

2014-15 Associate Director, Cancer Prevention and Control, Massey Cancer Center. •Grew inter-programmatic collaborations through strategic recruitments, shared resources, alignment of organizational structure for efficiency, pilot program support, and development •30+ full members and sponsored research program of >$9 million from ~$5 million.

2007-15 Co-Program Leader, Cancer Prevention and Control, Massey Cancer Center. •Supported program to achieve and 'Excellent to Outstanding' rating, raising it from a 'very good' in prior reviews •Grew NIH sponsored research 56%

Michigan State University

2001-05 Associate Professor (with tenure), Department of Medicine, College of Human Medicine.

1997-01 Assistant Professor, Department of Medicine, College of Human Medicine.

BOARD AND ADVISORY COUNCIL POSITIONS

2021-present Board Member (invited), Ray of Hope Foundation.

2018-20 National Advisory Council (appointed), Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality.

2017-18 Chair (elected), Colorado Cancer Coalition. Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment, Denver, CO.

2016-17 Vice Chair (elected), Colorado Cancer Coalition. Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment, Denver, CO.

2005-07 American Cancer Society Outcomes Research Advisory Committee.

2006-07 Secretary-Treasurer (elected), Society for Medical Decision Making.
2001-03 Member (elected), Board of Trustees, Society for Medical Decision Making.

2003	Spirit of Collaboration Award, Michigan Cancer Consortium
2002	Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan Foundation Excellence Award for Policy Research. $10,000
2001	Outstanding Researcher Award, Department of Medicine, Michigan State University
2001	Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan Foundation Excellence Award for Health Services Research. $10,000

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION

Early in my career, I recognized that racial inequality was a public health issue. My pioneering research in health equity resulted in an examination of health care delivery for underrepresented people. My most cited work demonstrated that, when treated equally, Black and white women diagnosed with breast cancer have similar survival rates. From this starting point, I personally embarked on creating pathways to greater equity and inclusion. I recognize we have considerable work ahead to create a sustainable environment where our past and current efforts will create a thriving diverse and inclusionary community.

Institutional change. •Worked with Cancer Center leaders to establish the “Rising Stars” $2 million endowment for the recruitment of four early-stage, under-represented faculty •Highly influential in the award of an endowed chair to the inaugural Associate Director of Community Outreach and Engagement who identifies as a Hispanic woman •Placed under-represented faculty into leadership positions •Collaborating with campus leaders to establish research relationships with surrounding community •Regularly participate in DEI training activities

Recruitment. •Recruited a racially and ethnically diverse faculty in my former Department of Healthcare Policy and Research •Changed the leadership composition of the University of Colorado Cancer Center by recruiting racially and ethnically diverse faculty •Recruited the first African American woman to hold the “Rising Stars” endowment and personally committed to her mentorship •Expanding the applicant pool of under-represented candidates

Career development. •As an Assistant Professor with first R01, sought and received a diversity supplement •Support pathway programs for research including training grants •Prior Principal Investigator of 3 training grants to support under-represented pre- and post-doctoral fellows and early-stage faculty •Co-Principal Investigator of an NIH-funded R01 with under-represented faculty member, leading to his establishment as an independent investigator and promotion with tenure •Mentored faculty from under-represented groups to promotion with tenure at each of the institutions where I held appointments •Invited undergraduate students from Denver-based Hispanic Serving Institutions to participate in Colorado School of Public Health research day

RESEARCH VISION

I study decisions made at the intersection of work, health insurance, and cancer. My research explains how when faced with a serious and expensive to treat illness such as cancer, many workers will remain employed to keep employer-based health insurance, despite needs for treatment and convalescence. This research has extended to families and caregivers and their financial consequences. Within this realm, I focus my research on policies that reduce disparate outcomes and financial burden among people who must make stark choices. I am also an expert in Medicaid and using administrative datasets to explore research questions related to health disparities. Thus, I also pursue a research agenda that discovers patterns of care within and across public and private payers. My research produces scientific evidence that increases health equity across racial/ethnic, income, and insurance groups. This body of research is informed by my experiences as a first-generation college graduate and the challenges embraced and overcome along the way.

FORMALLY SUPERVISED TRAINEES

Mentorship Approach

I have a well-established track record in mentorship and my mentees have successful research careers. I have been the Principal Investigator of 3 training grants and a mentor on numerous R25s and T32s in my career. I use an individualized approach to identify mentees' goals for the mentorship relationship, recognizing that mentees' needs vary from content expertise and research development to organizational navigation. Some mentees seek me out because I am a woman in a leadership role while others seek to learn how I approach research development. I seek to understand what motivates and challenges mentees and work with them to direct their energies in the most productive fashion. Core to my approach is mutual respect, open communication, and empowerment by creating an environment where learning can occur, innovative ideas can be explored, and risks can be taken. When I commit to a mentoring relationship, I am accessible and provide timely feedback and support mentees throughout their careers, providing guidance whenever needed. Because I am willing to make this commitment, and in return, I expect mentees to perform and commit to learning and growing throughout the process, understanding that priorities and life situations change. Of note, all of my early career stage faculty mentees have been promoted and/or tenured, my post- and pre-doctoral trainees have published, and most have been appointed to academic positions.
