

Learning from One Another:

The Legacy of the Holocaust in Health Professions Education

January 27th from 1:00-2:30pm (Mountain Time)

Panelists:

Darcy Copeland, RN, PhD

Associate Professor of Nursing at UNC, researching workplace violence, burnout, and traumatic stress.

Matthis Krischel, PhD

Lecturer in history of medicine and medical ethics at Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf.

Linda M. Woolf, PhD

Professor of Psychology at Webster University & President, Society for the Teaching of Psychology.

RSVP:

https://ucdenverdata.formstack.com/forms/holocaust_remembrance

Noon-1:00pm presentation by Matthew Wynia, MD, MPH
How Healers Became Killers: Nazi Doctors & Modern Medical Ethics

