Quarantine is like "Groundhog Day" where you wake up and do the same thing over and over, much like this acrylic painting in repetitious strokes. I'm lucky enough to live in Golden with North Table as my backyard.