Adding a Class

Important information prior to registering for classes.

- Complete the Pre-Registration Task. This task must be completed to maintain access to the student portal and proceed with self-registration. Students will be required to verify the following information: Personal Contact Details, Home and Local Addresses, Emergency Contact(s), and review of the University's Tuition Fee Agreement.
    - If this option does not first appear when entering the portal, it will open after a class section has been selected (before step 7).
- Review any task holds and to-do items.
- View Enrollment Appointment(s) (if applicable).
- For more information on these tasks, please refer to the Student How-To Guides & Documentation website.
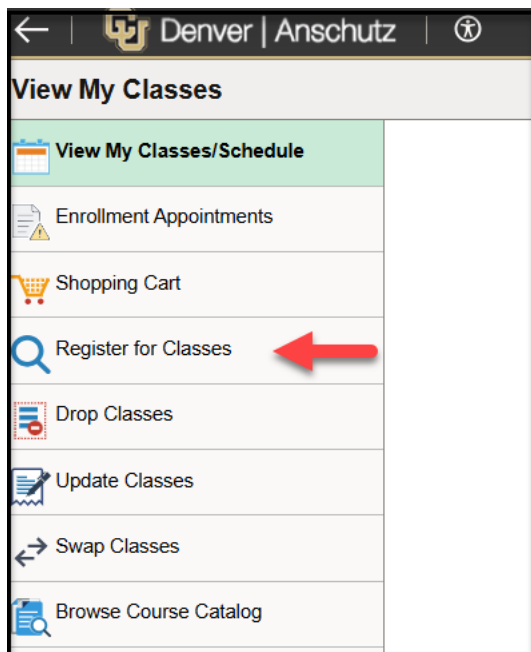

Note: The Class Search function is available to view classes prior to registration. The function allows students to add a course to favorites and save time locating the class when registration begins.

1. Log into the UCDAccess Student Portal. In the Student Center, click Register for Classes (add/drop).

2. On the navigation menu on the left-hand side of the screen, click Register for Classes.

Adding a Class

a. Keywords include searching by topic, course title, five-digit Class Number (ex. 12345), Subject Code and Catalog Number (ex. IDPT 8110)
   i. Search results are limited to 100 returned values. The message below will appear when the results exceed this limit. This is likely to happen when searching with broad topics or keywords. It is recommended students use multiple keywords to help further narrow the search results.

b. Additional ways to search
   i. This will open a new window with Available Subjects, Catalog Number, and Instructor Last Name. At least one of the three fields will need to be entered.

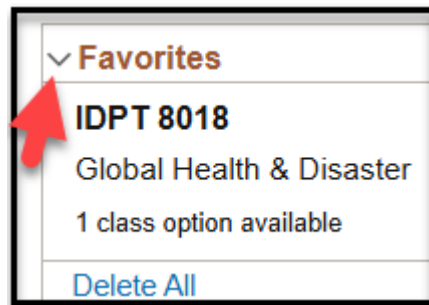

c. Favorites are the list courses that were added as Favorites from current or previous terms.
   i. To view/select Favorites, click the → button next to Favorites. This will expand the accordion with any favorites that have previously been added. Click the course(s) for more information.

    d. Recently Viewed are courses that were viewed while searching.
        i. To view/select Recently Viewed, click the arrow next to the Recently Viewed. This will expand the accordion with any courses that were viewed. Click the course for more information.
5. Click on the arrow on the right-hand side to choose a search result to view class options.

    a. If the search yields multiple results, use the filters on the left-hand side menu to help narrow the course options.

   d. Course Information provides the course description, units (credit hours), grading method, component(s), and course career the course is offered under.

   e. Class Selection provides information about the class sections being offered for the given term. This includes:
       i. Selection: click Select Class after reading through the other information to add the course to the schedule.
      ii. Status: will show if a section is open, closed, or has a waitlist available.
     iii. Session:
     iv. Class: gives the Subject Code and Catalog number (ex- IDPT 8079), Section Number (ex- A39F) and class number (ex- 37617). When the blue hyperlink is clicked, this opens a new window to provide further details about the specific section.

       1. Meeting Information provides the meeting dates, days, times, room, and instruction information. Important note: some schools/colleges/departments may update this information at a later time or students may need to contact their school/college/department for more information.
       2. Enrollment Information lets students know if there are additional enrollment requirements to take the course, such as department or instructor consent is required. The Class Notes area may also provide additional information regarding location, contact information for scheduling the course, etc.
       3. Class Details provides units (credit hours), grading method, instruction mode (the modality of how the course will be taught), location, and campus.
       4. Class Availability alerts students to the class capacity, current enrollment total at the time of scheduling the section, available seats at the time of scheduling the section, waitlist capacity (if applicable), and waitlist total (if applicable).
     v. Meeting Dates: the dates the section will be running.

      vi.   Days and Times: the specific days of the week and times the course will meet, if applicable.

     vii.   Instructor: the person(s) teaching the course.

    viii.   Seats: the number of open seats for the course.

7. Review the class section details to confirm the course, class (the blue hyperlink will open the Class Information box from Step 6), session, meeting dates, days and times, and seats. If the information is correct, click the Next button in the top right corner. If this is not the anticipated section, click the Exit button in the top left corner.

8. Choose to enroll or add the class to the shopping cart. Click Accept to proceed to Step 3. Click Previous to return to Step 1. Click Exit to return to Class Search.

Other Important Information

   a. Placing a class in the shopping cart does not save a place in the class. The enrollment process must be completed to have a seat in the class. The shopping cart functionality is recommended for use prior to the beginning of the enrollment appointment.

   b. If a permission number was given to enroll in the course, add this number to the Permission Box. Click Accept when completed.

   c. If applicable, a waitlist is available for the course, an option to be added to the waitlist if the class is full will also appear here.
